She is shown here standing by one of the several lavatories in the new spacious science department. In the foreground is the elevated teacher's desk and demonstration lab. Work on the new building is nearing completion but no date has been set for the school to take over the building.

NEWS AND VIEWS...

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Voters in the Hamlin Independent School District have been asked to vote on the consolidation of their district with McCaulley for the third time in about 12 years. Apparently, this will be the fourth election for McCaulley voters during this same period as they had one election to consolidate with Roby.

These consolidation elections always seem to get Hamlin caught between a rock and a hard place. The people of Hamlin too often get blamed for these elections when they originate in the McCaulley district.

It would help all receiving districts if the law on consolidations were changed. They ought to let the school district seeking to consolidate have its election first. If passed, then an election could be called in the receiving district. This would do away with a lot of hard feelings that seem to develop because of consolidation elections.

Hopefully, as in the past, the people of Hamlin will vote to permit McCaulley to consolidate with Hamlin, if that is what the people of McCaulley want. This should be approved for two reasons. One, is that it would be the neighborly thing to do, and second, it just plain makes good sense to enlarge your school district in the face of all of the troubles that smaller districts are receiving from the state.

But the real issue lies totally within the McCaulley School District. It was the people within that district who started the original petition to call the election and it will be the people within that district that must decide whether or not they wish to consolidate with Hamlin or anyone else.

Apparently, the ruling against permitting students to transfer from one district to another is the overriding issue that has triggered this election. Families who have been sending their children out of the McCaulley district to Roby or Hamlin find that they can no longer do this because of state and federal rulings.

Like we said earlier we just wish that any election in Hamlin could wait until the people of McCaulley have made their wishes known. As in the past, we feel that the people of Hamlin will always welcome our neighbors but do not want any part of the family feud that seems to develop within a school district when the subject of consolidation comes up.

EFFECTIVE MONDAY

Mrs. Speck to Replace Absher As Hospital Administrator

Chalres Absher, Hamlin Hospital administrator for the past 12 years, has submitted his resignation to the Hamlin Hospital District board of directors and will be succeeded by Mrs. Robert E. Speck of Wichita Falls.

Absher, who cited other pressing business interests as the reason for his resignation, had submitted his resignation at the December board meeting subject to the board's finding a replacement. This will be his final week at the hospital with Mrs. Speck assuming her duties as the new administrator Monday.

He and his wife, Faith, a teacher in the Hamlin School system, are owners of Style Cleaners and also have farming interests. He plans to devote full time to these interests.

John Scarborough, president of the Hospital District Board of Directors, said this week that the board regrets the loss of Absher as hospital administrator for these many years but understands his need to devote more time to his own businesses. The board expressed their appreciation to Absher for his faithfulness to the district during the lengthy battles in the Legislature and the courts in getting the district established.

The local district recently received a favorable ruling from the Texas Supreme Court and is awaiting the results of the final appeal to the state's highest court.

TO PLAY MUNDAY NEXT—

Basketball Teams Remain Undefeated In District Play

Both Hamlin basketball teams remained undefeated in District 7-A play following their wins over Knox City here Tuesday evening. They will travel to Munday Friday evening and then host Paducah here Tuesday.

The Pipers picked up a 10 point edge in the first period and defeated Knox City 55-51 for their fourth district win. Knox City outscored the Pipers 15-8 in the final period to cut the Hamlin lead to four points. Delbert Thompson and Ronald Brown each had 16 points to lead the Piper scoring. The balance of the Hamlin scoring came from Bo Ervine with 10, Charles Brown with 9, and Paul Reynolds with 4.

The Hamlin girls jumped out to a 14-4 first period lead over Knox City but then hit a second half cold streak to go scoreless in the third period. The girls took their fourth district victory by a 45-30 score. Starlet Covington was high with 17 points, followed by Elizabeth Hooper with 16, and Stacy Bell with 12.

The Pipers jumped out to a 20-9 first quarter lead over the Clyde Bulldogs last Wednesday night to win the Hardin-Simmons University basketball tournament championship, 72-59. Delbert Thompson was named the outstanding player of the tourney and he had 16 points in the championship game with Clyde. Ronald Brown was the top scorer in the contest, however, with 24 points.

The Pipers knocked off the Abilene High junior varsity in the championship semifinals, 64-55, with Charles Brown taking scoring honors with 20 points.

In games played last Monday and Tuesday, the Pipers defeated Jim Ned 64-39 and Ranger 65-39.

FOR SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION—

Absentee Voting Ends Tuesday for Elections

Tuesday is the final day to vote absentee in the two school consolidation elections called in the Hamlin and McCaulley School Districts. The elections will be held Saturday, Jan. 15, with the voters in the McCaulley Independent School District voting at the McCaulley school and the Hamlin voters voting at the Hamlin high school building.

The elections must pass in both districts to become effective. All registered voters living within the boundaries of the separate districts are eligible to vote in that district's election.

In response to questions concerning the election, the Hamlin Board of Education has issued the following statement:

"Should the voters of Hamlin and McCaulley Independent School District vote for consolidation the Hamlin Board of Education would permit student transfers in and out of the Hamlin District.

"Regarding that property now located in the McCaulley Independent School District, should consolidation pass and any property owners desire their property in another existing district, the Hamlin Board would not oppose de-annexation of such property so that it might be annexed by the other existing district. Of course, any such action must comply with the laws that require that the property involved, be it single tracts or blocks of land owned by several persons, be contiguous to or adjoining the district to which it is annexed."

The elections were called after 20 or more legally qualified voters in each of the two district signed petitions requesting the elections.

McCaulley voters in the past have turned down two similar proposals to consolidate their district with Hamlin.

The polls will be open at 7 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 15, and will close at 7 p.m. in both elections.

Guy Turner Working In State Legislature

Guy Turner, a 16-year-old Hamlin High School junior, is the only high school student selected to work in the Texas Legislature this session and has also been appointed assistant Sergeant-at-Arms.

Guy assumed his duties in Austin Monday and is working this week helping to get the offices ready for the legislators. The others working in the House of Representatives are university students.

He will begin work on the floor Monday when the Legislative Session opens.

Guy is very interested in politics and wanted to try for an appointment, after being encouraged by his civics teacher, Mrs. L. C. Brown. With the help of Jack Willingham, a local attorney who wrote to Representative Elmer Martin and others, Guy was interviewed by Russell Kelley of Stamford, Sergeant-at-Arms in the House and received the appointment.

Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie F. Turner, will be in Austin for one month and at the end of that period, he has the option of staying there through the entire session or returning home. He has received school assignments for the one month period and if he chooses to return home will continue his studies here. If he elects to stay in Austin, other arrangements for his high school studies will be made.

Guy is sharing an apartment with a cousin in Austin, a recent University of Texas graduate.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted in person to one of those offices.

Parents or guardians are required to submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

Staley urges all aliens to report before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

Philosopher Comes Out Stoutly In The Defense of So-Called Dunderheaded Solons

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One comes to the defense of Congress this week, we think.

Dear editor: Some people argue that one trouble with government today from precinct to Washington is that we don't select the brightest people to run it. "Whatta you expect, with dunderheads like that in charge," they'll say. Wait a minute, let's take a look at those dunderheads. Take a Congressman, for example. He now makes, by a vote of himself and his fellow members, $46,500 a year. That's per year, he isn't paid by the day or the hour, and anytime he wants to take off a few days to vacation or a few months to campaign for some other office, his pay goes right on. In addition, he gets 32 round trips back home during each session to look after the people's business or, if they have none, his own. He gets $5000 a year for stationery and envelopes and can mail his letters without stamps. If he gets sick he can go to a government hospital where he's charged only half what other patients pay. He can eat in the House restaurant where inflation has been whipped and the prices are about half what private restaurants have to charge to stay in business. And I almost forgot, he has a staff, some of whom make around $25,000 a year, at a cost of about $300,000 a year. The staff of course does most of the work. If he retires from office, or if he gets beat, he has a pension coming of around $20,000 a year. Now if you call that being a dunderhead, all I've got to say is, where do you sign up? You may think I'm criticizing all this, but you're wrong. I want the system extended. For example, take farming. Say a farmer makes, in a good year that comes along once in a great while, $20,000, without any free trips to town and back. But finally he retires or, so to speak, gets beat, not by the voters but by a combination of the weather, insects, low prices for what he sells and high prices for what he buys plus high taxes to support his government in the manner it's accustomed to. Shouldn't he get a pension of about half of what he used to earn, say $10,000 a year? The trouble with farmers is that not enough of them are dunderheads. J.A.

Organizing Your Efforts

For homemakers who consider cooking an art or who are just plain interested in the art of cooking, there's a new way to combine imagination with organization—the essence of any successful creative effort!

It's a new menu planning calendar that's also a cookbook. Over 100 recipes supply inspiration for inventive menus which you can outline right in this workbook. A handy tear-off shopping list at the bottom of the page helps you get organized.

Planning ahead saves time and money. You can take advantage of best buys featured in newspaper ads and you eliminate impulse purchases which can ruin any budget. Anticipating leftovers and how to use them is another good reason for jotting down your menu plans for the week. Finally, it is one easy way to avoid several trips to the supermarket when one will do.

Besides serving as a menu-planner, shopping list and cookbook, this unique calendar also features a complete table of weights and measures (standard and metric), a nutrient guide to help you plan balanced meals and tips for low saturated fat/low cholesterol diets.

But perhaps best of all this calendar-cookbook is also a money saver. It contains $5.08 worth of valuable coupons. But the whole book costs you only one dollar. To receive a copy, send a dollar to Creative Cooking, P.O. Box 252, Dept. P, Bellmore, N.Y. 11710.

You'll be on your way to being a kitchen wiz—as a budgeter and a cook.

FROM THE FILES . .

FIFTY YEARS AGO (January 7, 1927)

On securing of evidence, and complaints coming to me of disorderly conduct on the part of some at public dances in Hamlin, and in the best interest of the morals of our town, and for the best interest of the young people of our town and community, I order that all public dance halls shall be closed, within the city limits of the City of Hamlin.

Now therefore, I, Jno. C. Turner, Mayor of the City of Hamlin, Texas, do hereby order that all public places used as dance halls shall be closed for such purposes, and there shall not be held any public dance within the City Limits of the City of Hamlin, and in the meaning of public place in this proclamation, is any place other than a private home, or Hotel, which the management uses as a home, and in which the management and his family resides.

And I kindly ask the co-operation of every Father and Mother, who has the best interest of their boy or girl at heart, and every individual who is interested in the welfare of his town or community to the end that it shall never become necessary that I shall be compelled to enforce this proclamation.

Signed this the 3rd day of January, A.D., 1927.

JNO. C. TURNER, Mayor

For many months the Colwell Building has been under course of construction. It is now finished and occupied. It is a well built two story brick and concrete structure. It has four complete built-in roomy apartments on the second floor, all now in use.

The lower floor contains the new machinery for the bakery and a front display retail room. This is one of the best lighted and most attractive business houses, for its size, in Hamlin. B. B. Colwell is another young fellow who came to Hamlin and by hard work and good management, has made good. The Herald means to say that B. B.'s wife too, has been right on the job all these years and old B. B. can't have all the credit for the "making."

TWENTY YEARS AGO (January 3, 1957)

Oil activity continues to mount in the Hamlin territory. One completion and a new exploration are included in the week's development.

New election to vote on the proposed $60,000 bond issue that would provide funds for purchase of right-of-way for a widened and improved Highway 92 from Hamlin to Stamford will probably be called within the next several days by the Jones County Commissioners Court.

Lack of information, Christmas season, football play-off time for Stamford and general lack of interest were blamed for the bond issue's failure in the first vote, declare members of the highway committee of the Hamlin Planning Board.

Voters of the north one-third of Jones County are eligible to participate in the election. The issue would cost the average taxpayer probably $1 per year, say proponents of the plan.

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Young of Hamlin arrived December 17 at 10:44 a.m. Weighing seven pounds 15 ounces, he was named Gerald David.

Michael Bond, who recently was named football hero of the Hamlin Junior High School, was the honoree at a Christmas party given for students of the eighth grade on the evening of December 18 at the oil mill guest house.

Hosts for the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ueckert, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bonds, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bruner, Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Hodnett, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Cooper, Mrs. Albert Haught, O. E. Brandon, Chester Jenkins, Mrs. Joe Hudspeth and Donnie Sanderlin.

TEN YEARS AGO (January 5, 1967)

A rash of burglaries and vandalism hit the Neinda area Friday night as the Neinda Farmers Co-operative Gin lost an estimated $1,500 in money, equipment and tools.

The loss was discovered Saturday morning. The same night a vacant house on the E. W. Ueckert farm was burned, tools stolen and tractor tires slashed. A barn on the T. W. Flenniken farm was burned and tractor tires slashed.

Hollis Madden, manager of the Neinda Gin, said the greatest loss to the gin was their safe with all of the gin records. He is seeking any information on the whereabouts of the 700 to 800 pound black safe. The gin also lost an adding machine and other tools and equipment.

Jones County Sheriff Dave Reeves is investigating the losses.

The Fairview Baptist Church building will be moved soon from its present location on top of the hill about eight miles southeast of Hamlin. The church, organized in 1888, voted to disband and give the building to First Baptist Church to be used as the Mexican Mission. Services were held in the Fairview Church for the last time Jan. 1. The present building on the Mexican Mission site will be moved to make way for the Fairview building to be placed in the same location.

NEWS AND VIEWS . .

And What Have You

Hamlin voters can not vote in the McCaulley election and McCaulley voters can not vote in the Hamlin election and this is as it should be.

The important thing is for all of the qualified voters, particularly in the McCaulley School District, to express their desires at the polls. If a majority of the people living in the McCaulley School District decide that they want to close down their school and consolidate then that is what they should do, but if the majority wants to continue operating their schools then that too is what should be done.

Joe Ford, president of the Hamlin Industrial Foundation, has mailed a letter to all of the organization's members giving a progress report on the first two years. During the two years that the organization has been in existence it has raised $15,580 toward its five year goal of $50,000. It has received $560.76 in interest and $950.00 in rent. The rent is from one of the two tracts of real estate owned by the Foundation. The Foundation has purchased and paid for the two tracts for possible new industrial sites. They are the old Ford building and the vacant lot next to Cloud's Carpet Store.

In his letter, Ford notes that the Foundation has received donations from 30 different businesses and individuals. While this is a step in the right direction it also means that there are an awful lot of businesses and individuals in Hamlin who are not making much of an effort to help Hamlin secure new industry. Far too many people seem to want to wait and see if someone will come here and then they will come forward with their support.

Joe points out in his letter that "our Industrial Team is trained, active and ready to perform in the event a prospective industry shows interest in our town."

"Other towns our size have secured new industry and I believe that our town can. However, we must have the support of everyone," Joe added.

A Child and His Pet

This boy loves his pet turtle. He feeds it, takes care of it, and loves it. He wants to be with it all the time. We're glad to see him growing up caring for and loving all kinds of pets. But does he love God and care for Him? The Bible tells us in Proverbs 22:6 to "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." Love for God should be instilled in every young heart and it should be done while the child is young.

Begin by bringing him to church this week. Let him learn how God loves him and cares for him. Let him learn how he can serve God and others. Don't leave church out of his young life. Let the whole family attend church this week and begin the habit that can influence them all for a lifetime.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Understanding Your Insurance

Homeowner Coverage—

Why It's Rising

If you own a house and insure it properly against damage or loss, the chances are that your premiums have risen steadily over the years.

Mostly, that's the work of inflation.

The main idea of home-owners insurance is to protect you with enough coverage in money to rebuild your home on its present site. But costs of construction and related labor have been soaring for years. A house bought for $20,000 in 1960 could well be worth twice as much today.

RIISING COSTS—A house bought for $20,000 in 1960 could cost twice as much to replace today.

Mindful of increases in market value—and concerned for homeowners who may not realize how much their assets have grown—insurance companies such as The Travelers have long urged their customers to review home coverage regularly. Most U.S. homeowners policies, by the way, require that the house be insured for at least 80 percent of what it would cost to rebuild it.

The cost of insuring the contents of your home is also rising. Partly, this reflects inflation. But the rising incidence of burglary is also an important factor in the increase. It's estimated that an average of 6.2 household burglaries occurred every minute in this country in 1975—compared with 2.2 every minute in 1965.

It's certainly true that crime doesn't pay for the harassed citizen who must bear a higher premium because the shared risk runs higher.

Burleson Introduces National Health Care Act In Congress

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Representative Omar Burleson introduced legislation today that seeks to improve the nation's health care system without imposing excessive new taxes or creating a burdensome and expensive Federal bureaucracy.

In proposing the National Health Care Act of 1977, the veteran Texas legislator, who serves on the House Ways and Means Health Subcommittee, told Congress that the goal of better health care for all Americans can be attained now "if we enlist all our resources, private and public, in a meaningful and workable partnership to frame solutions that are both realistic and effective."

Burleson said he believes this legislation offers us "the most effective, efficient and economical way to improve health care and extend its availability to all Americans. My bill would build on the present health delivery and insurance system with improved Federal standards and guidelines. It would not only improve protection for all Americans, but it would also help control the cost of health care. This bill would achieve these goals without destroying the present health care system which has served our nation well. It would not create a burdensome and expensive Federal bureaucracy and it would not impose unconscionably higher taxes on our already overtaxed citizenry. It is time to improve our present health delivery and insurance system, not destroy it."

He said the National Health Care Act addresses the most complex problems—rising medical costs, lack of ambulatory health facilities, inadequate cost and quality controls, diffused leadership patterns, fear of catastrophic illness, and uneven benefit levels. Burleson noted that it does so "by the most efficient, least expensive methods, while blending the expertise and strengths of the major elements of the private sector with the unique capacities of Federal and State governments."

The National Health Care Act has important advantages over any Government-administered and financed program, Burleson explained. "For one thing, it would cost far less in Federal taxes and divert far fewer tax dollars from other high-priority social needs."

Burleson concluded that this is no time to enact a program of nationalized compulsory health insurance that would greatly increase Federal health care costs and place an excessive new strain on the Federal budget. He said his program would achieve the objective of better health care without these adverse effects of higher taxes and an expanded Federal Government.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas legislators will be swarming back to Austin January 11 for their 65th session.

Money dominates the agenda, including how to manage a $3 billion windfall of new revenue, improvements in public school finance, massive new highway aid and reform of the property tax laws.

House Speaker Bill Clayton, slated for unopposed re-election on opening day of the session, terms guarding the new revenues a top priority goal of the session.

"Like a pat of soft butter being spread across hot bread, this money is likely to be soaked up completely unless we institute measures to prevent that occurrence," warned Clayton.

There are other issues. Thousands of them.

About 4,000 bills and resolutions are expected to be offered in the House and Senate between January and May.

Among them will be the following:

A package of measures to curb runaway crime; at least four different approaches to providing funds for equal education opportunity (including the teachers' plan which also would give them a $10,000 starting pay scale); an $825 million fund realignment to prevent a crisis in highway building;

Measures to prevent skyrocketing increases in medical malpractice insurance rates; "sunset legislation" to phase-out unneeded state agencies in the interest of economy and efficiency; bills to check utilities rates (by tax reductions and switching gas rate regulation to the Public Utilities Commission); and rights-of-way condemnation power to assist coal slurry pipeline building.

Beil Asks Rehearing
Southwestern Bell has asked the Texas Public Utilities Commission to take another look at its $298.3 million rate increase proposal.

The commission December 14 recommended an increase no greater than $57.8 million.
A list of two dozen company objections accused the commission of violating its statutory mandate, ignoring its own regulations, denial of due process, confiscation of property and mandating rates insufficient to provide a fair return.

Beil implemented new rates under protest December 21 after filing tariff schedules with the commission.
Meanwhile, the commission set a January 10 pre-hearing on a city and rural rate increase request of Texas Power and Light Company totalling $135 million.

Nurses Want Rewrite
Texas nurses, who claim plumbers and barbers are subject to stricter regulation, want the laws governing them rewritten to help weed out unqualified practitioners.

Spokesmen said the Board of Nursing Examiners has no authority to stop unqualified individuals from doing work of professional nurses and using titles such as "graduate nurses."

Texas Nurses Association will seek a law to give their state board power to require continuing education for professional nurses

Proper Energy Management Can Save You Money!

Reddy's Helpful Tips For your Home Laundry

- ★ Utilize the washer's full capacity. Wash larger loads—wash less often.
- ★ Same goes for dryers: dry more than just a few items at a time.
- ★ Use the washer's load selector to save on hot water when you must wash small loads.
- ★ Use a cold rinse whenever possible to conserve hot water.
- ★ For more efficient drying, clean the dryer lint screen after each load.
- ★ If your dryer has an automatic cycle, use it to prevent unnecessary over-drying. Also, when allowed to overdry, clothes tend to wrinkle, thus require more ironing.

BEGINNING JANUARY 7, THERE WILL BE A CHARGE FOR DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE

Here's how the statewide Directory Assistance charging plan will work: Customers with single-line basic service who call Directory Assistance (1411) more than 10 times during a monthly billing period will be charged 20 cents for every call after their tenth. A maximum of two numbers may be requested during each call to Directory Assistance. Multi-line customers will have an additional allowance of one call for each line, up to 25 lines.

The Directory Assistance charge also will apply to calls for numbers in other towns within your home Area Code — with one important exception. You won't be charged for calling Directory Assistance in another town that has the same Area Code as yours provided you make a corresponding Long Distance call within your home Area Code. That call has to be placed from and billed to your own phone within the same monthly billing cycle.

To request numbers in other towns with the same Area Code as yours you will continue to dial 1-555-1212.

There will be no charge for requesting numbers that have a different Area Code than yours. Just dial 1, plus the Area Code, then 555-1212.

Also, there will be no charge for Directory Assistance calls from coin telephones or from hospitals.

Some customers not charged.
Visually and physically handicapped people who are unable to use the Directory will be exempt from the charge. If you think you, or someone in your family, or a friend may be entitled to this exemption, please fill out the coupon below for more information.
We're introducing this charge because it's the only way we can handle the rising costs of Directory Assistance fairly. The people who use Directory Assistance the most will pay the most.

So look in the book before you call. It will save you money starting January 7.

State Jail Standards Should Not Be Big Problem for County

By DANNY LAMMERT
Editor, Stamford American

Compliance with standards set recently by Texas Commission on Jail Standards will not cost Jones County a "big expenditure" other than initial investment, an interview with Jones County Sheriff Woodrow Simmons and County Judge Leon Thurman revealed.

While exact requirements of the commission have not filtered down to the county level yet, both men agreed that preliminary study of the standards requirements does not show a need for major changes.

Both were cautious to say exactly what will be required by the commission until the county facility is inspected but felt the major areas needing attention were separate facilities for women and juveniles, more office space and a 24-hour dispatcher.

Sheriff Simmons said Jones County is more fortunate than many counties its size. He said some counties with jails dating back to early in the century and late last century are really going to be forced to make major changes.

He said the Jones County Jail, built in 1940, is a fireproof and safe jail. It has plenty of room with two large cell blocks and four private rooms. With a sleeping capacity of 54 inmates, Simmons said the jail will have no problem passing space requirements.

The four private rooms accommodate trustees, juveniles, women and mental cases.

The jail commission, however, will require women and juveniles and be kept separate — including hearing — from other prisoners. Thus, Sheriff Simmons and Judge Thurman speculate that Jones County will be asked to produce a separate facility. An annex to the present jail has been suggested.

The commission may also require that first offenders be separate from repeat criminals and that young inmates be kept separated from older suspects. Sheriff Simmons said that if the commission requires a separate annex for women and juveniles, space in the present jail now used for women and juveniles will be available to comply with the requirements for old and young inmates and repeat offenders.

Another area that the commission may require changes in is the jail's office space. Sheriff Simmons said the commission may ask the jail to provide a counseling room for suspects and their lawyers, more radio space and a locked record room to insure the privacy of criminal records. This might require another annex, the county officials speculated.

While the expense for annexes would be an initial investment, Jones County may get by light in hiring additional employees. Some counties may have to hire as many as six employees, which means a continuing additional expense.

However, Jones County already has a woman deputy and other necessary deputies. The only possible addition would be for a midnight dispatcher to comply with the requirement that prisoners be checked hourly 24 hours a day. Currently there is no one on duty at the jail from midnight until 8 a.m.

The requirements for 24-hour supervision and a communication system between cells and the dispatch room carried a Dec. 23, 1976, deadline. However, Jones County commissioners have not acted on the requirements yet.

Each county will be required to report to the commission every four months, noting steps taken to comply with requirements. Since the requirements went into effect Dec. 23, the first report will be due April 23, at which time the county will have to account for needed changes.

At that time, if a county has not complied, it will have 15 days in which to do so or will not be allowed to keep prisoners. In that event, the county must contract with some other jail to keep prisoners or come up to the standards required.

The city jail in Hamlin apparently will not come under the requirements of the commission since the local jail appears to be considered as a holding facility until prisoners are transferred to a jail that meets requirements.
